International Airport Open

The official opening of the Mar de Cortes International Airport is perhaps the single biggest piece of news to hit this area in a very, very long time. November 5, 2009 will be remembered as the day that Puerto Peñasco grew up and passed from a remote destination to a first class tourist destination. President Calderon, Several State Governors and Mayors from the surrounding areas were all present at this Grand Event.

This is the first airport built in Mexico with 100% private funds. This is a first class facility that is capable of accommodating Boeing 757's. A planned runway extension will allow for Boeing 767's and similar sized aircraft. U.S. Airways and Aeromexico are rumored to be in the early stages of negotiations to provide regional services from Phoenix and Hermosillo. Discussions are also underway with various carriers to provide charter services from Canada and the U.S.

Feliz Navidad y Próspero Año Nuevo!
